SULZER GUILTY ON THREE COUNTS

Governor Convicted of Articles One, Two and Four.

ACQUITTED ON NUMBER THREE

"Precedent Established Here Will Not Be Accepted by Judgment of Fair-Minded Men," Declares One of Judges—Adjournment Taken.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Governor William Sulzer was found guilty of articles one, two and four of the impeachment charges by the high court of impeachment. He was unanimously acquitted of article three. Following the vote on article four adjournment was taken until morning.

Article one charges the governor with falsification of his campaign statement. The vote on this was 39 to 18.

Article two charges that he committed perjury in swearing to his campaign statement. The vote was identical with that on article one.

Article three charges that he bribed witnesses to withhold testimony from the legislative committee. The vote to acquit was unanimous.

Article four charges that he suppressed evidence against himself. The vote was 43 to 14.

He will be removed from office today, but not disqualified from holding office in this state in the future, unless there is a substantial change in the informal vote reported to have been taken by the court on these questions in secret session.

For the same reason it was expected he would be found not guilty on the other four articles still remaining to be voted upon when the court adjourned.

Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn, who has been acting governor since the impeachment of Sulzer, will become chief executive of the state. He is an Albany newspaper owner. Robert Wagner, a New York lawyer, will become lieutenant governor. He is the majority leader in the senate.

Galleries Crowded.

When the judges and senators of the high court of impeachment filed into the senate chamber the galleries were crowded with spectators and many thronged the corridors who were unable to gain admittance.

The roll call showed that all the forty-seven members of the court were present. Governor Sulzer was not present, but was represented by his attorneys.

The vote on article one was slow, as many of the members of the court explained their votes.

Presiding Judge Cullen voted not guilty. "I am constrained to find," he said, "that the respondent did take advantage of his nomination and candidacy for office to seek to personally enrich himself by diverting contributions which he received for campaign purposes. I find that the respondent knowingly signed a false campaign statement. And I find that he did verify this statement under oath, knowing it to be false.

"However, I must vote not guilty."

Speaking of article four, the larceny charge, Judge Cullen said:

"The use of this money for his own purposes for political wards is not an offense and I believe that he had the legal right to use the money for any purpose he saw fit. I don't think he could be guilty of larceny."

The presiding judge further declared that in signing his campaign statement the governor could not be considered guilty of legal perjury.

"But I am frank to say," he continued, "that if these acts were committed after he had taken office, he should be considered morally unfit to hold office."

Senator Thomas read a lengthy explanation of his vote of not guilty.

"Through the coming years," the statement said, "the accusing finger will keep forever pointing, and I think that this precedent established here will not be accepted by the canons of statutory construction and the judgment of fair-minded men."

MARYVILLE FORGER SENTENCED.

Ross Livasy, Who Defrauded First National Bank, May Be Released on Parole.

Ross Livasy of Maryville, late Thursday afternoon pleaded guilty in the criminal court in St. Joseph to a charge of forgery, and was sentenced to serve five years in the state penitentiary. It is understood that efforts will be made to obtain his release on parole, although no application has been filed.

Livasy was arrested several days ago after he had forged a check for $117.60 on the First National bank of Maryville, and had made unsuccessful efforts to obtain the money on it in St. Joseph. The Buchanan county authorities say they had evidence tending to show that Livasy has victimized several banks in Northwest Missouri in the same manner.

Livasy's parents live near Maryville, and are well known in this county.

Livasy was arrested about two weeks ago at St. Joseph at the instance of Joseph Jackson, Jr., cashier of the First National bank of this city. He was charged with having forged the name of George H. Swaney of Pickering to checks drawn on that bank. The total amount of all the checks would make about $1,200, it is said.

JUNCTION AFTER WATER WORKS.

A Survey Made and It Was Figured That the Cost Would Be in the Neighborhood of $12,000.

Burlington Junction wants a water works plant, and it looks as if she will get one. A. C. Pearsall, contracting engineer of the Des Moines Bridge and Iron company made a survey of the proposed water works system and the following is what this week's Post has to say about it:

According to his plans the well would be located at the power house south of the Wabash hotel and the stand pipe would be placed on the lots west of the mill. The tank would have a 50,000 gallon capacity and would be erected on a steel tower 100 feet tall. This would give a 50-pound fire pressure to any part of the city.

The mains and pipes would be placed so that practically every home in Burlington Junction would have water for domestic use and also for fire protection. A four-inch pipe and a two-inch pipe would be used on every other street, which would place every residence within a block of a four-inch pipe. A four-inch pipe is required for a fire hydrant.

The price made by Mr. Pearsall to install the system, using the best of material, was $11,382. To this would be added 10 per cent for plans and specifications and overseeing the installation of the plant. The company represented by Mr. Pearsall agrees to give bond and put up a certified check to install the plant at that price and the city the advantage of any reduction in material specified, should the cost on any of it become lower before the plant was installed.

After discussing the matter it was agreed to have the citizens meet with the city council at their next regular meeting night, Thursday, October 23, and decide at that time what action to take in the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith of Elliot, N. D., have been visiting at the home of Ed Wright. They left Thursday evening for Paoine, Col., to make their home.

MAKE 'EM VOTE, DANIELS SAYS.

Navy Secretary Says Citizens Hold Franchises Too Lightly.

In advocating compulsory voting, Secretary Daniels, in the Yale News Thursday, says:

"We have come to a time in our national life when the compulsory ballot must decide for itself. Sovereign voters of this republic are abdicating the most important duty of citizenship.

"Should they be allowed in this way to desert any more than a man should be allowed the right to desert the army in time of war? The chief and most far-reaching attribute of citizenship is the use of the ballot. If a man can forget his duty, the state must compel him to recall it."

FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. MOON.

Body of Pickering Woman Laid to Rest in White Oak Cemetery Friday Afternoon.

Rev. J. Arthur Dillinger of Des Moines, Ia., conducted the funeral services for Mrs. O. M. Moon at the family home in Pickering Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Burial took place in White Oak cemetery. The pall bearers were Henry Lincoln, Omar Strong, James Craven, Calla R. Harman and O. G. Craven, Calla R. Harman, O. G. Null and Charles Fakes.

Mrs. Roy Wolfers sang three numbers at the service, "God Will Take Care of Me," "I Am Happy in Him" and "Does Jesus Care."

Mrs. Moon's death occurred Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. She had been ill for several months from adhesions of the throat, and she was a great sufferer.

Mrs. Moon's maiden name was Emma Rea. She was born in Bloomington, Ind., September 1, 1879. When a small child she went with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rea, to Atchison, Kan., to live. When 12 years old she came with them to Maryville, where she attended school.

Eighteen years ago she was married to Oscar M. Moon, then the station agent at Arkoe, but for several years past the agent at Pickering. She is survived by her husband and two children, Claude, aged 14, and Mary, aged 7. One other child died in infancy.

Mrs. Moon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rea of Yelton, Okla., also survive, and three brothers, George and Irvin Rea of Yelton, Okla., and Edward Rea of Gallatin, Col., and two sisters, Mrs. J. S. McKim of Murray, Okla., and Miss Inez Rea, who made her home with her sister. Miss Rea gave up her work as a teacher this year in order to give her entire time to caring for Mrs. Moon, to whom she was greatly attached.

All the members of the family were at the funeral excepting the father and a brother, George Rea, who were here a week ago.

Other relatives attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Moon, Mrs. Edward Bratcher and daughter, Mrs. Pearl Edwards and Mrs. James Moon of Mayville.

Mrs. Moon was a devoted Christian woman and worker in the Christian church, and a most faithful and affectionate wife and mother. She was president of the W. C. T. U. at Pickering and was quite efficient in the cause of temperance. She will be missed in every good work in her community.

NEW IS RELEASED

FROM COUNTY JAIL TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF BROTHER.

IF THE COSTS ARE PAID

He Will Be Paroled—Services Held Today at Guilford and Parents From Oklahoma Are in Attendance.

E. E. New, who has been in the county jail here for the past few weeks, having been convicted of the charge of stealing a motorcycle in Kansas City and riding it to Guilford, left Friday for Guilford in company with Deputy Sheriff Porter to attend the funeral of his brother, Isaac New, who died at the home of his uncle, A. O. Beck, southwest of that town, on Wednesday night. The funeral services were held at the Latter Day Saints church in Guilford this afternoon, and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

New will probably be released from jail upon the payment of costs in the case. He was given a six months sentence in the county jail at the recent term of circuit court, after pleading guilty to the charge. It was arranged at that time for good cause shown that New would be paroled if he would pay the costs and he was given a month to do so. It is thought that his relatives at Guilford today will pay the costs and give the money to Deputy Sheriff Porter.

New is a half-blood Cherokee Indian and came to this county from Oklahoma to visit his relatives.

His younger brother, Isaac, came to Guilford on a visit from Claremore, Okla., about three weeks ago. He was taken sick with typhoid fever soon after his arrival and his death occurred Wednesday.

Mrs. William New of Claremore, Okla., arrived in Guilford Friday noon to attend the funeral services of her 15-year-old son, Isaac New. Mr. New arrived the day before their son's death.

Glad to Leave the Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tobin, who have been living on their farm, three miles south of Burlington Junction, for thirty-three years, arrived in Maryville Friday to make their home at 133 South Mulberry street. Two of their daughters preceded them and made things ready. Another daughter, Mrs. Josephine Boyle of Burlington Junction, came with them Friday for a day or two's visit. Mr. and Mrs. Tobin celebrated their golden wedding day a few months ago, and they are now ready to take a much needed rest. Mrs. Tobin should be well received by Maryville people, for she said this morning that she was as glad to come to Maryville to live as though she was starting on a trip to old Ireland. We hope we will prove worthy of such a friendly spirit.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Tongue is Coated or if Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Advertisement.

TO SERVE THE WORLD.

It is Not Necessary That You Go to Heathen Lands or Select a New Profession or Occupation.

Last June the president of Middlebury college, among the Vermont hills, made an appeal to his graduating class that the young men in all the other colleges ought to hear. He urged them to serve the world, but to remember that the world is not necessarily the distant and alluring city, or a remote and heathen land. It may be a man's own neighborhood, the village in which he was born.

If he was born on a farm he can show what patience, industry and intelligence can do to transform fifty or a hundred acres of the earth's surface into a self-supporting realm, the ruler of which, by tact and discretion, can encourage the other citizens of the community to improve their material surroundings and enlarge their field of intellectual vision.

But the college man need not go back to the farm. He can go to the rural school, and train up a generation that shall restore the rural communities by repopulating them with the original sturdy stock, inspired with the belief that opportunities for comfort and competence everywhere await the man or the woman who has eyes to see them. President Thomas told the graduates that Palestine was not always the Holy Land, but that men of faith and insight made it so; that Assisi was not always the home of saints, but that Saint Francis loved the poor there, and therefore the ages seek out his home.

As a result of his appeal, several graduates determined to give themselves to the service of the backward communities by living the life of the people and showing them the way forward. These men need not be preachers or teachers. They can be farmers or merchants or doctors, but they must believe in the country, they must love their fellow men, and they must have an imagination that keeps the goal in view when less hopeful souls despair.

This college president has discovered the only way to improve the conditions of rural life. When the country boy goes to college, not to prepare himself to leave home and make his way somewhere else, but to prepare himself to serve his own community better, the rush to the cities and the depopulation of the country will cease.

It is important that it should cease, for the cities must be fed by the country, and the country must buy the products of the city. They are mutually dependent. If one suffers the other cannot escape. But the young man is the true idealist. It is not the economic aspect of the question that will chiefly interest him. He will be moved rather by the vision of his opportunity to serve his generation by ministering to his neighbors and his friends.—Youth's Companion.

"MISSOURI" NOT AN INDIAN WORD

Ethnologists Now Know It is a French Corruption of an Indian Word.

"I wonder," asked the retired school teacher, "if anyone can tell me the meaning of the word 'Missouri?'"

"'Muddy water,'" a half dozen voices chorused, and one added, smiling a bit at the retired school teacher's ignorance: "The Indians called the river 'muddy water' because of the large amount of silt carried by the water always giving the river a muddy appearance."

"I thought you would say that." The Retired School Teacher smiled this time. "But you, like three-fourths of Missouri's citizens, probably are wrong, or at best only partly right.

"The 'muddy water' theory was started by Featherstonhaugh. He wrote that the Dakota Indians named the river "Minnay Shoshoh Chhay,' which meant literally 'water muddy hill.' How that became Missouri you can best understand by me reading a paragraph from his writings. He says:

"By itself it is not an Indian word, and, therefore, it is fair inference that it is a corruption. My informant said that in crossing the country to the Chagndeskah you first came to the Chhray-tanka (great hill), which is the general name for the Coteau du Prairei; that there then was a second chhray to cross; beyond that river was a third chhray called Minnay Shashoh Chhray, because you could see Minnay Shohoh, the muddy river (which is now called Missouri) from it. By abbreviating the first word "Minnay" of its last four letters, and afterwards the others, according to the principles of the French, the word "Ms-sho-ray" is produced. It is not improbable that such is the origin of the word Missouri."

"There is other evidence that the Indians called the Missouri 'muddy water.' In 1712 a man named Marest wrote that it was called 'Pekitanou,' or 'muddy water.' But most authorities now believe 'Missouri' is a corruption of the name of the Indians that lived near the river when the first explorers came. On Joliet's map it is spelled 'Mess-8-ri,' or substituting the French equivalent of '8,' 'Mess-ou-ri.' Marquette's map published in 1681 spells it 'ou-miss-ou-ri,' both of which spellings the bureau of ethnology says in a report 'probably are corruptions of the original Siounan name by the Illinois Indians adding their characteristic Algonquin prefix. Houck, the historian, inclines to that view.

"Long says 'Missouri' is a corruption of 'Ne-o-ta-cha,' or 'Ne-o-ge-he,' which meant 'those who build a town at the entrance of a river.' McGee says that the exact meaning of 'Missouri' or 'Ni-u-t'a-chi, (Long's Ne-o-ta-cha) is uncertain, but probably refers to the drowning of persons in a stream and may possibly be a corruption of the word 'Ni-shu-dge,' meaning 'Smoky Water.'

"That's about all the definite information we have about the meaning of the word. And now, while I'm talking, I might as well tell you some of the different ways 'Missouri' has been spelled since white men visited our state.

"Joliet, as I said, spells it 'Mess-ou-ri' and Marquette 'om-miss-ou-ri.' Franquelin's map has it 'Missourits' and 'Emissourettes.' Joutel, writing in 1686, was the first to spell the word as we do now.

"Bernard de la Harpe, Bougmont and Du Tisne varied their writings with 'Missoury,' or "Missourys,' and 'Missourie.' English writers had it 'Missouria' and 'Missourite.' The Spanish, Ulloa, Galvez and others, used a simpler form, spelling it 'Missuri,' 'Misuri,' 'Misoury' and 'Missounta.' Tonty spelled the word 'Missounta.' Ashe in 1806 had it 'Misauri,' but changed later to 'Missoury.' Cox speaks of 'The River of the Massorites,' and Carver in his travels published in 1779 says 'Missorie.'

"So you see 'Missouri' had had quite an eventful career before arriving at its present perfection."—Kansas City Star.

The farmers of the Hopkins vicinity had a big day Wednesday, when more than 300 of them gathered at the store of Mutti & Brown to witness a demonstation by Mr. S. Ganley for the American Steel Fence company of its famous steel fence posts. Mr. Ganley represents this company's interests in Northwest Missouri. Those who attended were the guests at dinner of Mutti & Brown, at the Presbyterian church, where the ladies of that church, who are famous cooks, served them. After dinner the guests went out in front of the church, where the demonstration took place. It was a big day for everybody there.

Wilson Says He is Through Dealing With Huerta.

DOMESTIC PROGRAM IN WAY.

Legislative Problems Keep President From Drastic Action — Peaceful Means of Handling Mexican Situation Not Yet Exhausted.

Washington, Oct. 17.—President Wilson indicated to those with whom he discussed the Mexican situation that he was irrevocably determined to deal no longer with the Huerta regime, but that further steps toward bringing peace to Mexico were being considered. No move is expected, however, until after Oct. 26, the date set for the Mexican elections.

Just what the Washington government will do is a matter of speculation among the high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is unmistakably toward conducting negotiations in some form or other with the constitutionalists

Reports that the president was preparing to recognize the belligerency of the constitutionalists are based chiefly upon the friendly disposition toward them that has arisen among administration officials since Huerta's proclamation of dictatorship. The suggestion was carried to President Wilson by those upon whose judgment he and Secretary Bryan have been guided to some extent in the past and while the attitude is one of waiting until Oct. 26 arrives, it appeared that some move indicating support for the constitutionalists was not at all improbable.

That President Wilson believes the Mexico City administration is incapable of restoring constitutional authority is evident and there is a well founded understanding that the Washington government would adopt a very drastic policy immediately but for the fear that it would interfere with the domestic program of currency and other legislative reforms.

AMEND CONSTITUTION

Debate Over Prayer Book Revision Grows Warm.

New York, Oct. 17.—An amendment to the constitution, making it impossible to change the title page of the prayer book or otherwise revise it, without a two-thirds vote of both the house of deputies and the house of bishops, was adopted overwhelmingly by the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church, in triennial convention here. The house of bishops must concur before the amendment becomes effective.

Important action taken by the house of bishops negatives the proposal indorsed by the house of deputies to make the presiding bishop of the church elective. Seniority of consecration now decides the choice.

The debate in the house of deputies over the constitutional amendment affecting prayer book revision was extended and spirited.

While efforts were made to keep out of the debate any direct reference to the proposal to change the name of the church from Protestant Episcopal to American Catholic, Dr. William Manning, who offered the amendment, plunged directly into that phase of the matter, and afterwards President Mann of the house of deputies declined to rule out of order deputies who undertook to answer Dr. Manning's arguments.

HITS WATERWAY PROGRAM

Major Declares Congress Has Failed to Carry Out Its Promises.

Hannibal, Mo., Oct. 17.—Governor Major in an address before the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association here urging better waterways in Missouri and other states, declared congress has failed in its share of the work.

With Governor Major came two other governor, Edward F. Dunne of Illinois and A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota. Other visitors included General William H. Bixby of Washington, former chief engineer of the United States army, and Senator Fruden of Dubuque Ia.

The convention was attended by more than 150 good waterways enthusiasts from the five states bordering on the upper Mississippi.

Record Price for Seats at Bull Fight.

Madrid, Oct. 17.—The popularity of even the world's baseball championship in America is eclipsed here by a bull fighting spectacle, which is being arranged for Sunday. The occasion is the farewell appearance in the arena of Bombita, the famous bull fighter, who is engaged to marry an English woman. Prices for seats have reached $95, which is a figure unprecedented in the history of bull fighting.

Kills Wife's Assailant.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—William Keith, according to the police, was told by his wife that Walter Paul, a grocery clerk, had attacked her. Keith lay in wait for Paul and shot and killed him.

S. G. Smith Heads Prison Association.

Indianapolis, Oct. 17.—Rev. S. G. Smith of St. Paul was chosen president for 1914 of the American Prison association, which closed its annual session here.

INDIGESTION, GAS OR SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Time It!—"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Your Upset, Bloated Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.—Advertisement.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN.

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run down condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took."

If the careworn, run down women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful strength creator and body builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

FOUNDERS AND OLD STUDENTS' DAY.

Tarkio College to Have a Big Time on October 24, Being a Home-Coming Celebration.

If you were ever a Tarkio student or teacher or director won't you kindly take down your calendar and make a red ring around October the 24th. And please remember how faithfully you used to keep your "dates." It is homing time a full holiday, annual occasion in your honor.

You can slip back one, three, five, ten, twenty, thirty years. You can meet the old "fellows," call them by their nicknames, swap experiences. You can pass the historic spots and raise memories. Bring "her" back with you; and "them" too.

Chapel meets at the old hour. The morning address is by Rev. W. P. McNary, D. D., president of the board of directors a dozen years or more. Two pioneer members of the board—Hon. S. H. Prather and Mr. Robert Lynn—will supplement the address with brief reminiscence. These men all helped to make the Tarkio story and can aptly tell of the times of the founding.

During the day visit will be made to the cemetery where a goodly number of the founders and teachers have been laid. There will be a tribute of flowers and brief words in remembrance.

In the afternoon the college first team plays Kansas City university at football. A strong game is promised.

A good fellowship evening is set to begin at 7 p. m. sharp. There will be a substantial "eat." A brief program of toasts is scheduled. Mr. W. A. Littell, the first alumnus, will speak for "Cicero;" Mr. W. M. Rankin, for "Athens;" Miss Belle McCaleb, '92, a former missionary teacher in Alaska, will recall the work of the earlier Christian organization. Mr. Clark A. McColl, '04, later A. M. and L. L. B., Columbia, has been given poetic license both as to theme and meter. And President Thompson, the guiding human hand and mind of Tarkio college for the quarter century past, will speak last and on outlook.

Not that this is the program entire of good things but thus far is definitely assured.

The registration fee of fifty cents covers "plate" and badge but not the football game. Two or three hundred guests are hoped. For the evening's program, registration must be made in person or by mail not later than the chapel hour of the 24th.

The local committees are. For the board, Dr. C. B. McMullen; for the faculty, Professors McCollough and Brown; for the old students, Mesdames Eugene Ashe, Lee Emmert, George Stevenson and Misses Caro Lynn, Lizzie McMullen, Gertrude Thompson; Messrs. Harry Cunningham, Harry Emmert, Joseph Espy, Thomas McCaleb, Will Travis, Bert Volker; for the college classes, Presidents Ried Shields, Mildred Luckhardt, Myrtle Graham, Helen Derry.

VOLUME 4. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, FRIDAY, OCT. 17, 1913. NO. 117.

SULZER GUILTY ON THREE COUNTS

Governor Convicted of Articles One, Two and Four.

ACQUITTED ON NUMBER THREE

"Precedent Established Here Will Not Be Accepted by Judgment of Fair-Minded Men," Declares One of Judges—Adjournment Taken.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Governor William Sulzer was found guilty of articles one, two and four of the impeachment charges by the high court of impeachment. He was unanimously acquitted of article three. Following the vote on article four adjournment was taken until morning.

Article one charges the governor with falsification of his campaign statement. The vote on this was 39 to 18.

Article two charges that he committed perjury in swearing to his campaign statement. The vote was identical with that on article one.

Article three charges that he bribed witnesses to withhold testimony from the legislative committee. The vote to acquit was unanimous.

Article four charges that he suppressed evidence against himself. The vote was 43 to 14.

He will be removed from office today, but not disqualified from holding office in this state in the future, unless there is a substantial change in the informal vote reported to have been taken by the court on these questions in secret session.

For the same reason it was expected he would be found not guilty on the other four articles still remaining to be voted upon when the court adjourned.

Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn, who has been acting governor since the impeachment of Sulzer, will become chief executive of the state. He is an Albany newspaper owner. Robert Wagner, a New York lawyer, will become lieutenant governor. He is the majority leader in the senate.

Galleries Crowded.

When the judges and senators of the high court of impeachment filed into the senate chamber the galleries were crowded with spectators and many thronged the corridors who were unable to gain admittance.

The roll call showed that all the forty-seven members of the court were present. Governor Sulzer was not present, but was represented by his attorneys.

The vote on article one was slow, as many of the members of the court explained their votes.

Presiding Judge Cullen voted not guilty. "I am constrained to find," he said, "that the respondent did take advantage of his nomination and candidacy for office to seek to personally enrich himself by diverting contributions which he received for campaign purposes. I find that the respondent knowingly signed a false campaign statement. And I find that he did verify this statement under oath, knowing it to be false.

"However, I must vote not guilty."

Speaking of article four, the larceny charge, Judge Cullen said:

"The use of this money for his own purposes for political wards is not an offense and I believe that he had the legal right to use the money for any purpose he saw fit. I don't think he could be guilty of larceny."

The presiding judge further declared that in signing his campaign statement the governor could not be considered guilty of legal perjury.

"But I am frank to say," he continued, "that if these acts were committed after he had taken office, he should be considered morally unfit to hold office."

Senator Thomas read a lengthy explanation of his vote of not guilty.

"Through the coming years," the statement said, "the accusing finger will keep forever pointing, and I think that this precedent established here will not be accepted by the canons of statutory construction and the judgment of fair-minded men."

MARYVILLE FORGER SENTENCED.

Ross Livasy, Who Defrauded First National Bank, May Be Released on Parole.

Ross Livasy of Maryville, late Thursday afternoon pleaded guilty in the criminal court in St. Joseph to a charge of forgery, and was sentenced to serve five years in the state penitentiary. It is understood that efforts will be made to obtain his release on parole, although no application has been filed.

Livasy was arrested several days ago after he had forged a check for $117.60 on the First National bank of Maryville, and had made unsuccessful efforts to obtain the money on it in St. Joseph. The Buchanan county authorities say they had evidence tending to show that Livasy has victimized several banks in Northwest Missouri in the same manner.

Livasy's parents live near Maryville, and are well known in this county.

Livasy was arrested about two weeks ago at St. Joseph at the instance of Joseph Jackson, Jr., cashier of the First National bank of this city. He was charged with having forged the name of George H. Swaney of Pickering to checks drawn on that bank. The total amount of all the checks would make about $1,200, it is said.

JUNCTION AFTER WATER WORKS.

A Survey Made and It Was Figured That the Cost Would Be in the Neighborhood of $12,000.

Burlington Junction wants a water works plant, and it looks as if she will get one. A. C. Pearsall, contracting engineer of the Des Moines Bridge and Iron company made a survey of the proposed water works system and the following is what this week's Post has to say about it:

According to his plans the well would be located at the power house south of the Wabash hotel and the stand pipe would be placed on the lots west of the mill. The tank would have a 50,000 gallon capacity and would be erected on a steel tower 100 feet tall. This would give a 50-pound fire pressure to any part of the city.

The mains and pipes would be placed so that practically every home in Burlington Junction would have water for domestic use and also for fire protection. A four-inch pipe and a two-inch pipe would be used on every other street, which would place every residence within a block of a four-inch pipe. A four-inch pipe is required for a fire hydrant.

The price made by Mr. Pearsall to install the system, using the best of material, was $11,382. To this would be added 10 per cent for plans and specifications and overseeing the installation of the plant. The company represented by Mr. Pearsall agrees to give bond and put up a certified check to install the plant at that price and the city the advantage of any reduction in material specified, should the cost on any of it become lower before the plant was installed.

After discussing the matter it was agreed to have the citizens meet with the city council at their next regular meeting night, Thursday, October 23, and decide at that time what action to take in the matter.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith of Elliot, N. D., have been visiting at the home of Ed Wright. They left Thursday evening for Paoine, Col., to make their home.

MAKE 'EM VOTE, DANIELS SAYS.

Navy Secretary Says Citizens Hold Franchises Too Lightly.

In advocating compulsory voting, Secretary Daniels, in the Yale News Thursday, says:

"We have come to a time in our national life when the compulsory ballot must decide for itself. Sovereign voters of this republic are abdicating the most important duty of citizenship.

"Should they be allowed in this way to desert any more than a man should be allowed the right to desert the army in time of war? The chief and most far-reaching attribute of citizenship is the use of the ballot. If a man can forget his duty, the state must compel him to recall it."

FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. MOON.

Body of Pickering Woman Laid to Rest in White Oak Cemetery Friday Afternoon.

Rev. J. Arthur Dillinger of Des Moines, Ia., conducted the funeral services for Mrs. O. M. Moon at the family home in Pickering Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Burial took place in White Oak cemetery. The pall bearers were Henry Lincoln, Omar Strong, James Craven, Calla R. Harman and O. G. Craven, Calla R. Harman, O. G. Null and Charles Fakes.

Mrs. Roy Wolfers sang three numbers at the service, "God Will Take Care of Me," "I Am Happy in Him" and "Does Jesus Care."

Mrs. Moon's death occurred Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. She had been ill for several months from adhesions of the throat, and she was a great sufferer.

Mrs. Moon's maiden name was Emma Rea. She was born in Bloomington, Ind., September 1, 1879. When a small child she went with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rea, to Atchison, Kan., to live. When 12 years old she came with them to Maryville, where she attended school.

Eighteen years ago she was married to Oscar M. Moon, then the station agent at Arkoe, but for several years past the agent at Pickering. She is survived by her husband and two children, Claude, aged 14, and Mary, aged 7. One other child died in infancy.

Mrs. Moon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rea of Yelton, Okla., also survive, and three brothers, George and Irvin Rea of Yelton, Okla., and Edward Rea of Gallatin, Col., and two sisters, Mrs. J. S. McKim of Murray, Okla., and Miss Inez Rea, who made her home with her sister. Miss Rea gave up her work as a teacher this year in order to give her entire time to caring for Mrs. Moon, to whom she was greatly attached.

All the members of the family were at the funeral excepting the father and a brother, George Rea, who were here a week ago.

Other relatives attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Moon, Mrs. Edward Bratcher and daughter, Mrs. Pearl Edwards and Mrs. James Moon of Mayville.

Mrs. Moon was a devoted Christian woman and worker in the Christian church, and a most faithful and affectionate wife and mother. She was president of the W. C. T. U. at Pickering and was quite efficient in the cause of temperance. She will be missed in every good work in her community.

Cider Swipers May Prove Alibi.

NEW IS RELEASED

FROM COUNTY JAIL TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF BROTHER.

IF THE COSTS ARE PAID

He Will Be Paroled—Services Held Today at Guilford and Parents From Oklahoma Are in Attendance.

E. E. New, who has been in the county jail here for the past few weeks, having been convicted of the charge of stealing a motorcycle in Kansas City and riding it to Guilford, left Friday for Guilford in company with Deputy Sheriff Porter to attend the funeral of his brother, Isaac New, who died at the home of his uncle, A. O. Beck, southwest of that town, on Wednesday night. The funeral services were held at the Latter Day Saints church in Guilford this afternoon, and burial will take place in the cemetery there.

New will probably be released from jail upon the payment of costs in the case. He was given a six months sentence in the county jail at the recent term of circuit court, after pleading guilty to the charge. It was arranged at that time for good cause shown that New would be paroled if he would pay the costs and he was given a month to do so. It is thought that his relatives at Guilford today will pay the costs and give the money to Deputy Sheriff Porter.

New is a half-blood Cherokee Indian and came to this county from Oklahoma to visit his relatives.

His younger brother, Isaac, came to Guilford on a visit from Claremore, Okla., about three weeks ago. He was taken sick with typhoid fever soon after his arrival and his death occurred Wednesday.

Mrs. William New of Claremore, Okla., arrived in Guilford Friday noon to attend the funeral services of her 15-year-old son, Isaac New. Mr. New arrived the day before their son's death.

They will then go on to Gary, Ind., and Toledo, O., for short visits with relatives, then on to Toronto, Canada, the birthplace of Mrs. McCann, where they will spend several weeks with her aged aunt, who has been seriously ill.

This is the first visit Mr. and Mrs. McCann have made to their respective homes since leaving them thirty-nine years ago.

GAVE A SONG RECITAL.

Rev. Cox Sang a Number of Selections at the Normal Chapel This Morning.

At the chapel hour of the Normal school this morning Rev. Gilbert S. Cox gave a short song recital, with P. O. Landon at the piano. Mr. Cox has sung a number of times at the Normal and is a welcome visitor for as many times as he can find time to come. Dean George H. Colbert of the faculty spoke a few words in appreciation of Rev. Cox's kindness in singing for the students, and paid him a high tribute both as a man and as a singer.

Rev. Cov gave the following program: "A Red, Red Rose," Hastings; "Two Elizethan Lyrics," Wilson; "Sunset," Dudley Buck; "Banjo Song," Homer; "I Hear You Calling Me," Marshall; "The Bandolero," Stuart.

Glad to Leave the Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tobin, who have been living on their farm, three miles south of Burlington Junction, for thirty-three years, arrived in Maryville Friday to make their home at 133 South Mulberry street. Two of their daughters preceded them and made things ready. Another daughter, Mrs. Josephine Boyle of Burlington Junction, came with them Friday for a day or two's visit. Mr. and Mrs. Tobin celebrated their golden wedding day a few months ago, and they are now ready to take a much needed rest. Mrs. Tobin should be well received by Maryville people, for she said this morning that she was as glad to come to Maryville to live as though she was starting on a trip to old Ireland. We hope we will prove worthy of such a friendly spirit.

George Collins, 34 years old, of Maitland, was slightly injured on the scalp last night when he was struck by a Wyatt park street car at Fifth and Angelique streets, in St. Joseph. Collins, in dodging a wagon, stepped on the car track and was struck by the fender of the car. The injured man was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where Dr. Thomas J. Lynch dressed his wound. He returned to his home in Maitland Thursday.—St. Joseph News-Press.

Although but fifty years old, Mrs. Sarah Bartee, who was a resident of the Myrtle Tree neighborhood for twenty-five years, is a great-grandmother. Mrs. Bartee is the mother of Mrs. P. M. Smith, living east of Maryville. The Northeast Argus, published at Minneapolis, Minn., of Saturday, October 11, contains a picture of Mrs. Bartee, her daughter, Mrs. Annie Lemley, at 2543 Central avenue, New Boston, Minneapolis, with whom she is visiting; her granddaughter, Mrs. Clara Vollrath, at 949 Twenty-sixth avenue northeast, and her year-old great-granddaughter, Anna Regina Volrath, four generations of the family completed within three decades. The many old friends and neighbors of Mrs. Bartee, whose home is now at Trenton, Mo., will be interested in this news item, and will also be glad to know that she is in excellent health and that it is quite within the realms of possibility that she will see the fifth generation of her family, and it is her expectation. Mrs. Bartee recently visited her daughter, Mrs. P. M. Smith. She has two daughters, two sons, ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

MOTHER! IS CHILD'S STOMACH SOUR, SICK?

If Tongue is Coated or if Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Advertisement.

TO SERVE THE WORLD.

It is Not Necessary That You Go to Heathen Lands or Select a New Profession or Occupation.

Last June the president of Middlebury college, among the Vermont hills, made an appeal to his graduating class that the young men in all the other colleges ought to hear. He urged them to serve the world, but to remember that the world is not necessarily the distant and alluring city, or a remote and heathen land. It may be a man's own neighborhood, the village in which he was born.

If he was born on a farm he can show what patience, industry and intelligence can do to transform fifty or a hundred acres of the earth's surface into a self-supporting realm, the ruler of which, by tact and discretion, can encourage the other citizens of the community to improve their material surroundings and enlarge their field of intellectual vision.

But the college man need not go back to the farm. He can go to the rural school, and train up a generation that shall restore the rural communities by repopulating them with the original sturdy stock, inspired with the belief that opportunities for comfort and competence everywhere await the man or the woman who has eyes to see them. President Thomas told the graduates that Palestine was not always the Holy Land, but that men of faith and insight made it so; that Assisi was not always the home of saints, but that Saint Francis loved the poor there, and therefore the ages seek out his home.

As a result of his appeal, several graduates determined to give themselves to the service of the backward communities by living the life of the people and showing them the way forward. These men need not be preachers or teachers. They can be farmers or merchants or doctors, but they must believe in the country, they must love their fellow men, and they must have an imagination that keeps the goal in view when less hopeful souls despair.

This college president has discovered the only way to improve the conditions of rural life. When the country boy goes to college, not to prepare himself to leave home and make his way somewhere else, but to prepare himself to serve his own community better, the rush to the cities and the depopulation of the country will cease.

It is important that it should cease, for the cities must be fed by the country, and the country must buy the products of the city. They are mutually dependent. If one suffers the other cannot escape. But the young man is the true idealist. It is not the economic aspect of the question that will chiefly interest him. He will be moved rather by the vision of his opportunity to serve his generation by ministering to his neighbors and his friends.—Youth's Companion.

"MISSOURI" NOT AN INDIAN WORD

Ethnologists Now Know It is a French Corruption of an Indian Word.

"I wonder," asked the retired school teacher, "if anyone can tell me the meaning of the word 'Missouri?'"

"'Muddy water,'" a half dozen voices chorused, and one added, smiling a bit at the retired school teacher's ignorance: "The Indians called the river 'muddy water' because of the large amount of silt carried by the water always giving the river a muddy appearance."

"I thought you would say that." The Retired School Teacher smiled this time. "But you, like three-fourths of Missouri's citizens, probably are wrong, or at best only partly right.

"The 'muddy water' theory was started by Featherstonhaugh. He wrote that the Dakota Indians named the river "Minnay Shoshoh Chhay,' which meant literally 'water muddy hill.' How that became Missouri you can best understand by me reading a paragraph from his writings. He says:

"By itself it is not an Indian word, and, therefore, it is fair inference that it is a corruption. My informant said that in crossing the country to the Chagndeskah you first came to the Chhray-tanka (great hill), which is the general name for the Coteau du Prairei; that there then was a second chhray to cross; beyond that river was a third chhray called Minnay Shashoh Chhray, because you could see Minnay Shohoh, the muddy river (which is now called Missouri) from it. By abbreviating the first word "Minnay" of its last four letters, and afterwards the others, according to the principles of the French, the word "Ms-sho-ray" is produced. It is not improbable that such is the origin of the word Missouri."

"There is other evidence that the Indians called the Missouri 'muddy water.' In 1712 a man named Marest wrote that it was called 'Pekitanou,' or 'muddy water.' But most authorities now believe 'Missouri' is a corruption of the name of the Indians that lived near the river when the first explorers came. On Joliet's map it is spelled 'Mess-8-ri,' or substituting the French equivalent of '8,' 'Mess-ou-ri.' Marquette's map published in 1681 spells it 'ou-miss-ou-ri,' both of which spellings the bureau of ethnology says in a report 'probably are corruptions of the original Siounan name by the Illinois Indians adding their characteristic Algonquin prefix. Houck, the historian, inclines to that view.

"Long says 'Missouri' is a corruption of 'Ne-o-ta-cha,' or 'Ne-o-ge-he,' which meant 'those who build a town at the entrance of a river.' McGee says that the exact meaning of 'Missouri' or 'Ni-u-t'a-chi, (Long's Ne-o-ta-cha) is uncertain, but probably refers to the drowning of persons in a stream and may possibly be a corruption of the word 'Ni-shu-dge,' meaning 'Smoky Water.'

"That's about all the definite information we have about the meaning of the word. And now, while I'm talking, I might as well tell you some of the different ways 'Missouri' has been spelled since white men visited our state.

"Joliet, as I said, spells it 'Mess-ou-ri' and Marquette 'om-miss-ou-ri.' Franquelin's map has it 'Missourits' and 'Emissourettes.' Joutel, writing in 1686, was the first to spell the word as we do now.

"Bernard de la Harpe, Bougmont and Du Tisne varied their writings with 'Missoury,' or "Missourys,' and 'Missourie.' English writers had it 'Missouria' and 'Missourite.' The Spanish, Ulloa, Galvez and others, used a simpler form, spelling it 'Missuri,' 'Misuri,' 'Misoury' and 'Missounta.' Tonty spelled the word 'Missounta.' Ashe in 1806 had it 'Misauri,' but changed later to 'Missoury.' Cox speaks of 'The River of the Massorites,' and Carver in his travels published in 1779 says 'Missorie.'

"So you see 'Missouri' had had quite an eventful career before arriving at its present perfection."—Kansas City Star.

Wilson Says He is Through Dealing With Huerta.

DOMESTIC PROGRAM IN WAY.

Legislative Problems Keep President From Drastic Action — Peaceful Means of Handling Mexican Situation Not Yet Exhausted.

Washington, Oct. 17.—President Wilson indicated to those with whom he discussed the Mexican situation that he was irrevocably determined to deal no longer with the Huerta regime, but that further steps toward bringing peace to Mexico were being considered. No move is expected, however, until after Oct. 26, the date set for the Mexican elections.

Just what the Washington government will do is a matter of speculation among the high officials, but the trend of events, they say, is unmistakably toward conducting negotiations in some form or other with the constitutionalists

Reports that the president was preparing to recognize the belligerency of the constitutionalists are based chiefly upon the friendly disposition toward them that has arisen among administration officials since Huerta's proclamation of dictatorship. The suggestion was carried to President Wilson by those upon whose judgment he and Secretary Bryan have been guided to some extent in the past and while the attitude is one of waiting until Oct. 26 arrives, it appeared that some move indicating support for the constitutionalists was not at all improbable.

That President Wilson believes the Mexico City administration is incapable of restoring constitutional authority is evident and there is a well founded understanding that the Washington government would adopt a very drastic policy immediately but for the fear that it would interfere with the domestic program of currency and other legislative reforms.

AMEND CONSTITUTION

Debate Over Prayer Book Revision Grows Warm.

New York, Oct. 17.—An amendment to the constitution, making it impossible to change the title page of the prayer book or otherwise revise it, without a two-thirds vote of both the bishops, was adopted overwhelmingly by the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church, in triennial convention here. The house of bishops must concur before the amendment becomes effective.

Important action taken by the house of bishops negatives the proposal indorsed by the house of deputies to make the presiding bishop of the church elective. Seniority of consecration now decides the choice.

The debate in the house of deputies over the constitutional amendment affecting prayer book revision was extended and spirited.

While efforts were made to keep out of the debate any direct reference to the proposal to change the name of the church from Protestant Episcopal to American Catholic, Dr. William Manning, who offered the amendment, plunged directly into that phase of the matter, and afterwards President Mann of the house of deputies declined to rule out of order deputies who undertook to answer Dr. Manning's arguments.

HITS WATERWAY PROGRAM

Major Declares Congress Has Failed to Carry Out Its Promises.

Hannibal, Mo., Oct. 17.—Governor Major in an address before the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association here urging better waterways in Missouri and other states, declared congress has failed in its share of the work.

With Governor Major came two other governors, Edward F. Dunne of Illinois and A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota. Other visitors included General William H. Bixby of Washington, former chief engineer of the United States army, and Senator Fruden of Dubuque, Ia.

The convention was attended by more than 150 good waterways enthusiasts from the five states bordering on the upper Mississippi.

Record Price for Seats at Bull Fight.

Madrid, Oct. 17.—The popularity of even the world's baseball championship in America is eclipsed here by a bull fighting spectacle, which is being arranged for Sunday. The occasion is the farewell appearance in the arena of Bombita, the famous bull fighter, who is engaged to marry an English woman. Prices for seats have reached $95, which is a figure unprecedented in the history of bull fighting.

Kills Wife's Assailant.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—William Keith, according to the police, was told by his wife that Walter Paul, a grocery clerk, had attacked her. Keith lay in wait for Paul and shot and killed him.

S. G. Smith Heads Prison Association.

Indianapolis, Oct. 17.—Rev. S. G. Smith of St. Paul was chosen president for 1914 of the American Prison association, which closed its annual session here.

INDIGESTION, GAS OR SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Time It!—"Pape's Diapepsin" Makes Your Upset, Bloated Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.—Advertisement.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN.

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run down condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took."

If the careworn, run down women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful strength creator and body builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

FOUNDERS AND OLD STUDENTS' DAY.

Tarkio College to Have a Big Time on October 24, Being a Home-Coming Celebration.

If you were ever a Tarkio student or teacher or director won't you kindly take down your calendar and make a red ring around October the 24th. And please remember how faithfully you used to keep your "dates." It is homing time a full holiday, annual occasion in your honor.

You can slip back one, three, five, ten, twenty, thirty years. You can meet the old "fellows," call them by their nicknames, swap experiences. You can pass the historic spots and raise memories. Bring "her" back with you; and "them" too.

Chapel meets at the old hour. The morning address is by Rev. W. P. McNary, D. D., president of the board of directors a dozen years or more. Two pioneer members of the board—Hon. S. H. Prather and Mr. Robert Lynn—will supplement the address with brief reminiscence. These men all helped to make the Tarkio story and can aptly tell of the times of the founding.

During the day visit will be made to the cemetery where a goodly number of the founders and teachers have been laid. There will be a tribute of flowers and brief words in remembrance.

In the afternoon the college first team plays Kansas City university at football. A strong game is promised.

A good fellowship evening is set to begin at 7 p. m. sharp. There will be a substantial "eat." A brief program of toasts is scheduled. Mr. W. A. Littell, the first alumnus, will speak for "Cicero;" Mr. W. M. Rankin, for "Athens;" Miss Belle McCaleb, '92, a former missionary teacher in Alaska, will recall the work of the earlier Christian organization. Mr. Clark A. McColl, '04, later A. M. and L. L. B., Columbia, has been given poetic license both as to theme and meter. And President Thompson, the guiding human hand and mind of Tarkio college for the quarter century past, will speak last and on outlook.

Not that this is the program entire of good things but thus far is definitely assured.

The registration fee of fifty cents covers "plate" and badge but not the football game. Two or three hundred guests are hoped. For the evening's program, registration must be made in person or by mail not later than the chapel hour of the 24th.

The local committees are. For the board, Dr. C. B. McMullen; for the faculty, Professors McCollough and Brown; for the old students, Mesdames Eugene Ashe, Lee Emmert, George Stevenson and Misses Caro Lynn, Lizzie McMullen, Gertrude Thompson; Messrs. Harry Cunningham, Harry Emmert, Joseph Espy, Thomas McCaleb, Will Travis, Bert Volker; for the college classes, Presidents Ried Shields, Mildred Luckhardt, Myrtle Graham, Helen Derry.
